MAIDENS' MISTAKES.

IMPROVISED MARRIAGES AND THE USUAL
REQUIL OF DIVORCE.

Judge Thayer cleared the docket for the term—The Old Idea of Failure to Support—Drunk and Desertion—Flirtations, Separations and Reconciliations—Grief of To-Day's Divorced Mill.

Judge Thayer last evening stepped down from the bench of Court No. 5, with a volume of notes taken in the trial of the Ramsey divorce case, which occupied seven days. To-day he heard and disposed of his delayed docket divorce docket and several unfortunate people were speedily released from their matrimonial fetters, as will be seen below. There was a larger element of young women in court than usual, and in the majority of the plaintiff's moved in good circles. The following suits were presented:

TOO GOOD FOR OTHER WOMEN.
Harriet E. Holland, formerly Harriet Prentiss, was married to April F. Holland in 1881. She soon began to transfer her affections to other women and he was guilty of improper conduct with two or three young women who received his attentions. When she discovered this she refused to live with her husband, but he professed regret for his indiscretions, and promised to lead a pure life if his wife would forgive him. The strength of this promise Mrs. Holland went back to him, but she alleged that he soon drifted into his old habits, and she was isolated with various young women in his company. She alleged that he was unfaithful and she again refused to live with him and he again promised in the role of a penitent, sought and obtained forgiveness and they kissed and made up.

After a time, however, the husband again fell from grace and his ill treatment of his wife was aggravated by whipping, failure to provide and cruelty, rendering her condition intolerable. She was at length compelled to leave her husband and he sought for her threatening to kill her.

CRUELTY AND ABUSE.
Eugie Clark married Walter O. Clark in Bates County, July 3, 1883, and they lived together until January 1st of the present year. Mrs. Clark alleged that her husband was a cruel and devoted wife, but that he had abused and vilified her to gross indignities. He was always angry and abusive. At his request, when she was in a delicate condition, Mrs. Clark went to her mother, and was shocked and mortified to receive a letter from her husband, stating in the most insulting manner that he would not live with her if she bore a child. She did not go back to him. Restoration of maiden name, Eugie Wright, was asked for.

A FORGIVING WIFE.
Mary Powers married James Powers December 1, 1882, and lived with him until October 1884. She complained that he treated her in a cruel and barbarous manner, vilified her, abused and otherwise rendered her condition intolerable. She went back to her old home, but her husband's promises to do better in future she went to live with him again. The old line of conduct, however, was soon repeated, and he failed to provide for his family. Mrs. Powers was compelled to take her child and go home a second time.

ELLEN THURNER ASKED FOR A DECREE FROM CHAS. R. THURNER. They were married February 18, 1881, and lived together until July 1884. Mrs. Thurner alleged that her husband was quarrelsome and abusive and unreasonably jealous. He constantly annoyed and humiliated her with false accusations of flirting. At one time he took her to Chicago for three months, leaving her destitute and returning only $15 during the whole of that period.

IDA L. KNISPEL ASKED FOR A DECREE FROM WM. C. KNISPEL. They were married May 29, 1884, and lived together until December 5, of the same year. Mrs. Knispel alleged that her husband failed to support her, gave way to habits of intemperance, and finally abandoned her. There were no children.

FORCED HER TO LEAVE.
Anna Hoesinghaus asked for a divorce from Geo. H. Hoesinghaus, to whom she was married May 13, 1879. They lived together until June 22, 1886. Mrs. Hoesinghaus complained that her husband was cruel and abusive, and she subjected her to various indignities, whipped her, failed to provide for her, and at length forced her to leave home. She asked for the custody of the child.

MAILED TO PROVIDE.
Marie Knispel asked for a decree of divorce from Henry Knispel. They were married May 12, 1878, and lived together until October 12, last year. Mrs. Knispel complained that her husband became intemperate and neglected to provide for his family. They were married May 12, 1878, and lived together until October 12, last year. Mrs. Knispel complained that her husband became intemperate and neglected to provide for his family.

MARY E. POWELL MARRIED JOHN POWELL OCTOBER 9, 1879, AND LIVED WITH HIM UNTIL JULY 25TH, 1880. Mrs. Powell complained that her husband failed to support her and at length deserted her. She asked for restoration of her maiden name, Mary Graham.

FORSAKEN WITHOUT CAUSE.
Leontine Y. Bragdon asked for a divorce from Orin D. Bragdon. They were married at New Orleans March 26, 1873, and lived together until April, 1881. One child was born of the union. Dudley Acton Bragdon, now in his 9th year. Mrs. Bragdon alleged that her husband deserted her without any cause or provocation on her part.

WENT ON SPIES.
Mary Riedel asked for a decree of divorce from Lorenz Riedel. The marriage took place at Decatur, February 13, 1886, and the separation occurred in December of last year. Mrs. Riedel alleged that her husband went on spies, came home and beat her, swore at her, struck her in the face and kicked her over the fence. He failed to support his family, which consisted of nine children.

ONLY ONE MONTH.
Maria Magda Anna Krieger asked for a decree of divorce from Henry Krieger. They were married January 2, 1882, and lived together only one month. Mrs. Krieger alleged that her husband failed to support her, took to drinking and deserted her. There were no children.

TIMED OF HIM.
John Riefelshneider married Maggie, August 23, 1877. He alleged that he treated her with affection and respect and furnished her with a comfortable home, but she left him in June, 1884, and has remained absent ever since.

KATE NICKERSON ASKED FOR A DECREE FROM CHAS. N. NICKERSON. They were married February 18, 1881, and lived together until January 18, 1886. Mrs. Nickerson alleged that her husband deserted her without cause. She asked for the custody of her child, Irene.

A WIDOW'S MISTAKE.
Gertrude Lemcke entered suit to-day in the Circuit Court, seeking a decree of divorce from Ferdinand Lemcke. The marriage took place in October, 1878, and Mrs. Lemcke alleged that she was a widow. Mrs. Westlake, when Lemcke paid his addresses to her, she possessed a little property, and was a widow, and frequently whipped and bruised her without any cause or provocation on her part. Occasionally he expected her to be a prostitute and subjected her to gross indignities. Last Good Friday Mrs. Lemcke alleged that her husband whipped and bruised her in a brutal manner and drew a razor upon her. She has had enough of this treatment and asks for relief from the Court.

DECEITS PLANTED.
Judge Thayer this afternoon pronounced the following decrees: Ida Knispel against Wm. C. Knispel; decree of divorce and restoration of maiden name, Hoesinghaus against Leonora Y. Bragdon; O. D. Bragdon; Anna against George H. Hoesinghaus; decree, custody of child and restoration of maiden name, Mary against Lorenz Riedel; decree, custody of child; Mary E. Powell against John Powell; decree and restoration of maiden name, Marie Knispel against Henry Knispel; decree and custody of children; Maria M. against Henry Krieger, decrees.

Notes in Court.
In the partition case of Frederica Klovit vs. Johanna Wigel, Judge Lubke rendered a decision to-day. The motion to strike out of answer is overruled as to first, second and third parts, and sustained as to fourth part. Judge Harley to-day heard and disposed of the back-tax docket.

In the suit of O. L. Hobbins against the publishers of an evening paper, Judge Lubke rendered a decision to-day. The demurrer to the petition is overruled. The petition is unquestionably good under the decision of the libel as laid down by the Supreme Court of this State, says the Court.

A Cigar-Maker's Statement.

Ernest Nolkemper, 3549 Hobart Street.

Mr. Nolkemper, a well-known cigar-maker, said: "On the 1st of last January I was taken with rheumatism or sciatica in my left leg and it gave me terrible pain, which would run down the hollow of the thigh, extending sometimes to the knee, often so severe as to prevent my having any power over my leg. It was as if it was paralyzed and I was unable to walk or stand or even turn in bed. I was often suddenly attacked with pain, so severe as to render life a burden."

followed by wasting and general ill-health. "I was told by my friend, Mr. Edward Blank, the grocer, of 501 Sullivan avenue, that I should go to Dr. McCoy and he would cure me. At this time I was unable to even move in bed, and so I sent my wife to the Doctor and she told him how I was, and she brought me medicine, and as soon as I began to take it my pain began to leave me."

IN THREE DAYS I was around again. In a month I was entirely well, and I would not have that pain again for $100. It seems strange how the medicine went to the very spot, when everything I had tried and all the medicine I had taken before did me no good."
